

BUILD A SHELTER AGAINST A RAINY DAY

- Consider all things, not merely material things.
- We often put possessions out of proportion, ahead of family, faith, and friends.
- Your faith, whatever it may be, is the greatest shelter of all.
- Society as a whole has become so infatuated with material things that we have gotten away from the values that are everlasting.

Peace of mind will provide you with a shelter.
 The actions you take to assist others will build your peace of mind.

EXERCISE: MY BEST FRIEND—what are the character traits and consistent behaviors that most define the quality of your relationship with your “best friend “? How could these traits and behaviors play a bigger role in how you work with people in the future?
