

Physical strength is measured by what one can carry, spiritual strength by what one can bear.

Describe a person you know or have known who you would characterize as having great spiritual strength.

---

---

---

How does this person's spiritual strength impact the manner in which they handle adversity?

---

---

---

Is this an area you could improve on?

---

---

---