

Much of what we see depends on what we are seeking.

What does this statement mean to you?

Do you think it has value? If so why? Can you give an example one way or the other?

Are there relationships in your life (personal or professional) where a heightened awareness of this principle would be helpful?
