

The goal is to satisfy not everyone else's expectations, but your own

What do you think this statement means?

---

---

---

How could you interpret this statement in a way that would eliminate following this philosophy and not being selfish?

---

---

---

How could you share this idea with somebody you mentor and do it in a positive way?

---

---

---