

You cannot antagonize and influence at the same time.

What does this statement mean to you? Does it have value ...Why?

Give an example of a time you disciplined someone without antagonizing them.

What were the details of your style of communication that enabled you to do this? Could you apply this principle on other occasions? If so how?
