

Establishing clear expectations: Using the Pyramid of Success

As it applies to your job and your co-workers list three specific behaviors that would demonstrate enthusiasm (enjoying what you do).

As it applies to your job and your co-workers list three specific behaviors that would demonstrate cooperation (could include being a good listener and not being condescending).

As it applies to your job and your co-workers list three specific behaviors that would demonstrate self-control (could include maintaining emotional balance under any circumstances).
