

Avoiding Staleness

Describe a team or group you were or are part of where the daily routine never got or gets boring.

How was that accomplished? What was the result? Be as specific as you can.

Is there a team or group that you are part of that is suffering from staleness? Can you improve the situation? How will you do it?
