

The Difference Between An Opinion And A Fact

How would you describe: "The Difference Between An Opinion And A Fact"?

How would this distinction impact the way you communicate?

How would this distinction impact the way you value input from others?
