

Faith

Describe two different situations personally or professionally where you demonstrated faith in others in spite of the “odds”. Why?

What were the results? Would you do it again? Why or why not?
