

The Leader is a servant. The Leader keeps his eyes on high goals. (Making the world a better place to live by helping others.)

Choose three celebrities you like (sports or other areas) and google their name followed by the word charity. What were the results?

Is there a charity they support that you could support in some way? Is there a local cause you contribute some time to?
