

“What To Change; What Not To Change”

When implementing changes why would it be important to clearly define what will change and what won't change. Why?

---

---

---

When implementing a new system; should you tell team members that their job will be easier, or they will be more efficient. What's the difference?

:

---

---

---

What is your check list when you implement change?

---

---

---

---